Speaker Information

Dan Adomitis has served in various roles, including general counsel positions, with the Bridgestone Group of companies since 1988. Prior to Bridgestone, he practiced law with a law firm in Memphis. Today, he serves as the President of Firestone Natural Rubber Company, LLC. Mr. Adomitis has an economics degree from Auburn University and a J.D. from the University of Tennessee.

John T. Blankenship is a partner in the Murfreesboro law firm of Blankenship & Blankenship. He has a commercial law practice, specializing in construction, and he has extensive experience serving as an arbitrator and mediator. Mr. Blankenship received a B.S. from Middle Tennessee State University, J.D. from the University of Tennessee College of Law and a LL.M. in Dispute Resolution from the University of Missouri School of Law.

Andrew T. Englehart is the President of Construction Process Solutions, LTD, which is a construction consulting firm based in Cincinnati, Ohio. In addition to extensive experience with providing dispute resolution analysis and support, he serves as an arbitrator and mediator. Mr. Englehart has a B.S. in Civil Engineering from Cincinnati University and a J.D. from Capital University Law School.

Robert E. Oglesby has served as the State Architect of Tennessee since February of 2011. Prior to his current position, he enjoyed the private practice of architecture with a number of Tennessee based architecture and engineering firms, including over 17 years with Everton Oglesby Askew Architects. Mr. Oglesby has a Bachelor of Architecture from the University of Tennessee.

Don L. Smith is a founding partner of the Nashville law firm of Smith Cashion & Orr, PLC, where he devotes his practice to construction law and litigation. He has a B.A. and J.D. from Vanderbilt University. Mr. Smith was the first recipient of TACC's Lifetime Achievement Award.
